Dear Sirs:

This letter, when signed by you and countersigned by Doubleday & Company, Inc., will constitute an amendment to our agreement of April 21, 1983 for the publication of THE WHOLE EARTH SOFTWARE CATALOG.

Paragraph 2 shall be amended to read as follows:

> Publisher shall publish a trade paperback edition of the work at its own expense, in the style and manner and at the price now estimated to be $17.50, which it shall deem best suited to its sale and under such original imprint as it deems advisable.

Paragraph 36 shall be amended to read as follows:

> (a). Author and Publisher shall consult with regard to the manuscript, camera-ready mechanicals and the cover of the book.
>
> (b). Publisher shall pay Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000.00) for camera-ready mechanicals of which Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000.00) has been paid to date, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged; the balance shall be paid upon submission to Publisher of invoice indicating delivery to Author of camera-ready mechanicals.
>
> (c). Publisher shall also pay up to Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000.00) for four-color separations and text film of the work payable one-half upon submission to Publisher of said invoice indicating delivery to Author of camera-ready mechanicals and the balance upon Publisher's acceptance of complete and satisfactory film which is due not later than July 15, 1984. Total payments for such film shall not exceed the amount actually invoiced to the Author.
>
> (d). In the event of any subsequent editions with revisions, Publisher will pay Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) for camera-ready mechanicals, one-half on mutual agreement to proceed and one-half on delivery.
>
> (e). These amounts will not be charged against the advance.

(f). Film being provided by the Author for approximately 192 text pages and 72 four-color half tones on 32 pages will be one-piece composit film for each two-color text page accompanied by page proofs delineating color breaks, and four-color page separations for inserts accompanied by full color proofs with color bars. Format is to be negative film, emulsion side wrong reading.

Paragraph 37 shall be deleted and shall now read as follows:

Finished books will be shipped by September 1, 1984 provided that Publisher has received satisfactory film by the date specified in Clause 36(c) above. In the event film is received prior to that date, Publisher may, at its own discretion, choose to ship books within six weeks of receipt of satisfactory film.

All other terms of our agreement of April 21, 1983 shall remain the same.

Please sign all copies of this letter and return them to us for Doubleday's countersignature, after which one copy shall be returned to you for your records.

Sincerely yours,
DOUBLEDAY & COMPANY, INC.
